ABOUT THE AUTHOR

Caitie Leigh's road to pursuing writing has been one hell of a roller-coaster ride, one that has taught her to have the courage to defy people's expectations and chase her dreams. She hopes to encourage her readers to do the same through her writing, for she would not be the person she is today if she didn't have the strength, courage and persistence to believe in herself. Caitie loves to write thrilling mysteries, heart racing romance and fantasy with characters that are clever, fearless and blissfully in love. She's a sucker for a great romance when a great love story evolves across the page. As a result, she loves to lose herself in her own writing.

A CONVERSATION WITH THE AUTHOR WHAT WAS YOUR INSPIRATION FOR WRITING HIDDEN AMONG THE SHADOWS?

For as long as I can remember, all I've ever wanted to do is write. I've heard so many stories from family and schoolteachers who are now close friends, about how I would often be in my own little world and would write stories for people. To be perfectly honest, when I was seriously thinking about pursuing writing, which was when I was in grade 9 or 10, the Mafioso Series hadn't even become an idea. At the time, I was looking to write a fantasy piece influenced by my love and my best friend's love of Richelle Mead's Vampire Academy series. There's a lot that has helped inspire and influence the Mafioso Series in the leadup to its completion – mostly inspired by other novels and TV shows such as Lars Kepler's Stalker, R.L Stine's Eye Candy as well as The Blacklist, Chicago P.D, Eye Candy, and Stalker.

Those books and TV series that I adore so much helped influence and shape the Mafioso Series into what it is today, drawing on similar themes and tropes those shows and novels use.
