

Rivers and Seas

Written by Timothy Gerrard

LEAVING THE FALLOUT OF THE MONASTERY ATTACK, IPPOLITO AND RUTH JOURNEY TO AFRICA...

A slave revolt bars their path as they aim to traverse the Nile to the Mediterranean coast. Beyond, the looming dangers of the river threaten all who aim to pass.

A string of encounters more dangerous than the last plague their journey, all as they hope to reach Salerno, where the final aspect of their education to become physicians will occur.

The 12th century world encounters the new campaign led by Richard the Lionheart, leaving Ippolito and Ruth to strive for their ultimate dreams of freedom amongst a world shaken by war and turmoil...

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

Tim is a retired registered nurse who has always had a passion for history and for writing a novel that combines both his professional knowledge and love of “times and things gone by”. Until retirement he only had time to write a handful of short stories for magazines but since retiring has begun pursuing his other professional goal of becoming a serious writer. Tim lives on the far south coast of NSW in what he calls a “fifty cent shack with a million dollar view”.

ISBN	9781922993687
Publication Date	25 OCT 2024
Genre	Historical, Adventure
Format	Paperback
Audience	General
Author Location	Batemans Bay, NSW

Price available on our website

Click here to order.

Rivers and Seas

Written by Timothy Gerrard

Also by Timothy Gerrard

"...a breathtaking adventure, rivalling the stories of Marco Polo, and considerably more fun." Tom Flood, Author & Miles Franklin Award Winner

"The adventures continue for these amazing characters. The author's talent for great narration and landscapes blends with well thought-out plots... Excellent reading!" Craig, Readalot reviewer

ISBN	9781922993687
Publication Date	25 OCT 2024
Genre	Historical, Adventure
Format	Paperback
Audience	General
Author Location	Batemans Bay, NSW

Price available on our website

"A fantastical read of adventure and challenge in an open canvas of historical reverence... A great read!"

Jack, Readalot reviewer

Click here to order.